THERMIQUE INTRODUCES NEW DESIGNER COLLECTION AND NATIONWIDE NETWORK OF SHOWROOMS

CHICAGO, III. (October 31, 2008) — Thermique Technologies unveils an exciting new collection of heated glass towel warmers—and a nationwide network of dealers and showrooms to introduce these new designs to homeowners, architects and interior designers from coast to coast.

Introducing the Designer Collection

Thermique is once again expanding its design options to include beautiful new color combinations for its heated glass towel warmers. The latest addition to the Thermique Towel Warmer family is the Designer Collection, which mixes dazzling colors with polished chrome accents.

Only Thermique allows you to warm towels and linens over heated glass instead of old-fashioned metal bars. The result is a towel warmer more beautiful than any other design on the market today. The glass is held aloft in a stylish, freestanding frame that does not require wall space or professional installation.

The new Designer Collection allows you to choose your favorite color frame from Thermique's Classic Collection and accent it with polished chrome along the top and below the glass. Color options currently available include white, black, and cream.

National Network of Authorized Dealers

The launch of Thermique's Designer Collection is timed to coincide with the introduction of a new nationwide network of bath showrooms stretching from Connecticut to California. Only authorized Thermique dealers have the distinction of offering customers the beauty of Thermique heated glass in a freestanding towel warmer.

"Thermique is forming partnerships with the nation's most innovative dealers, the ones who take pride in introducing the latest styles and technologies first," said Jim Dennison, director of marketing for Thermique Technologies.
